CLASS POEM

We arrived in nineteen-twenty
  At the dear old G. H. S.
Rather timid, rather bashful,
  We were that we must confess.

But each term has made us stronger
  And our confidence has grown,
Till now we are quite cool and calm,
  And to others widely known.

Some of us are tall and slender,
  Some of us are short and fat,
But take us as a whole
  And we will pass for all of that.

We were always represented
  In activities and in games.
Not meaning to be boastful,
  We have won many fames.

So as this year brings to an end
  Our dear old high school days,
We say good-bye to one and all
  And hope we win their praise.

—LUCILE VANAMAN.

CLASS HISTORY

'Twas in September, 1920, that sixty-five Freshmen boarded the ship, "Opportunity" and began to sail the seas. At first it was rather difficult to get along, but after a time we became more accustomed to the ways of the waters. We were piloted on this journey by Frank Smith and his three assistants: Helen White, Virgil Swalley, and Lucile VanAman. When we had reached the middle of our journey, we were accosted by heavy dark clouds, which brought on quite a severe storm, but we passed through this successfully, and thus began the second semester of our journey. This semester passed a little more successfully, thus making the dark clouds and severe storms of examination a trifle easier to pass. At last we reached the island, "Vacation."

The Sophomore ship started on its journey o'er the seas with less confusion. This time the crew was piloted by Dale Gephart and his assistants: Claude Hoover, Lucile Vanaman, and Theo Lane. The journey was successfully made, each of us having been able to pass the storm of examination, and again we steamed into the harbor "Vacation."

The Junior ship! Yes, the ship set sail once more, but we weren't Sophomores any longer; the name of Junior had been thrust upon us. One of the honorable members of our crew, Jane Ellen Hart, was editor-in-chief of the high school paper, "The Maroon and Blue," so we made quite a renowned record that time. Of course it was necessary and customary to change the piloting force again, so Margaret Ellen Hersh became pilot with Perry Houser and Lucile VanAman as her assistants. Our benefit show, "Across the Continent," met with great success so we were able to stage the Junior-Senior banquet. Thus we ended this exciting trip by again reaching the island "Vacation."

Once more and for the last time, we board the ship, with the name Senior at last attained. Our crew is Perry Houser, Paul Miller, and Lucile VanAman. We have an honorable member who is editor-in-chief of the G. H. S. "Aeolian." Paul Grischke and his assistants are working hard on this book, and we all know it will display superior workmanship. We are giving a play, which we feel confident will be a success, and now we are awaiting until our ship reaches the island "commencement," where chief manager, Mr. Carroll, will give us our long-hoped-for certificate to Success.

—HELEN DITMARS.

They all had just one thought in their mind
And that was never to get behind
They all studied hard both night and day,
And they never took very much time to play.
And every daughter and every son
Thought of "one for all and all for one."
They wore their colors so proud and true,
With never a thought of feeling blue,
And they all looked forward to one happy day,
When they would all leave the G. H. S. and say
"We've had lots of good times in this wonderful place,
But now we must leave you to start a new race."

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

A miscellaneous group of students came to school September 7, 1921. After enrolling we were found to be seventy-six members strong. With the "Spirit of 76" we have gone through three years in our high school.

During the year 1922-23, we were allowed to organize with Mervin Dickson, president, Loren Loomis, secretary-treasurer. These officers served to the best of their ability. Other members of the class participated in basketball, several of the stars of the victorious tournament belonging to our organization.

The all too short Sophomore year ended and our Junior year was ushered in under leadership of Leslie Steckley, president, and Edward Smith, vice-president, Mary Katheryn Hixon, secretary-treasurer. We will not here boast of ourselves, but in one short year will be heard again, then step aside, our place to be filled by those who in turn will follow us:—

Students may come and
Students may go—
But G. H. S. shall go on forever.

SOPHOMORE CLASS POEM

On one fine and sunny morning
To the school we Freshies went;
Worked and studied hard and thoughtful,
Till we thought our strength was spent.

But as Sophies we are striving
For a higher, better aim;
For in future years we'll show them
What it takes to win the fame.

In the Orchestra and Glee Chorus
Our students do their share,
And we live up to our motto
Which is always, just, B^2.

We had a boy sing on the quartette,
This won high honors too;
We've representatives on the Student Council;
And also on the Maroon and Blue.

In the years we have before us
We will try to do our best,
And we hope we'll leave behind us
A perfect pathway for the rest.

CLASS HISTORY OF '26

Back in the golden days of 1922 a bright band of eighty-two jolly, yet timid little "Greenies," paddled toward a new sphere of life. How readily we, the illustrious class of '26, recollect the trembling, and the dread, when we assembled for the first time in the walls of the "Old G. H. S." Everywhere from every nook and corner peered the gay laughing faces from the upper classmen with their sneering scoffs and stinging words. Right then we resolved with a strong determination that we would be the victors of our new strife. We quickly showed them when we won three of the four ticket contests which were among the classes. We also had a good representation in athletics. Although we did not organize we enjoyed a very successful school year.

The following September the school bells rang with a more cheerful yet sad tone. Our faces turned from that 'Dear Old Spot' to a 'New' yet more beloved place. We ranked exceedingly high in athletics this year in both football and basketball. We elected for officers: Lee Thomas Hollopeter, President; Cloyd Brown, Vice-president; Madolyn Coombs, Secretary-Treasurer. We have three members on the Maroon and Blue Staff and also two who represent us in the Student Council. We are all looking forward to another successful year as Juniors and we will try to live up to our motto "B^2."

FRESHMEN CLASS POEM

Tell us not oh worthy Seniors,
That the way is rough and steep,
For we've started on our journey
Hear the tramp of many feet.

We're eighty-five in number,
A company young and smart,
With good teachers here to help us
We will try to do our part.

We are here to gain much knowledge
As we bravely form in line;
And leave, like the poet tells us,
"Footprints on the sands of Time."

Footprints that perhaps a Sophomore,
Who has fallen in the strife,
Seeing, may take refuge with us
And again take up the fight.

Then when four years work is finished
And commencement time is here,
We have gathered for the last time
And our duty is made clear.

Then the superintendent tells us
As our good work he records,
"Well done, good and faithful scholars,
You have won the great reward."

—MAXINE WELLS

FRESHMEN CLASS HISTORY

Eighty-eight little boys and girls entered Garrett High school with great anticipation in the fall of 1923. We bravely bore the ridicule of our upper classmen with the thought in mind that our turn would come next year. It was not necessary to do this very long, however, as we soon demonstrated through various activities that we were capable and worthy of merit.

One of our boys, Merwood Sapp, made the first eleven in football while two, Fred Groscup and Kenneth Fogel, made second team. Basketball followed with two Freshmen boys, Robert Brinkerhoff and Otis Cartwright, and two girls, Iris Herbert and Pauline Dirr on first squad. When the Student Council was organized, two members from our class, Mary Edythe Johns and Robert Brown were elected. Three reporters, Robert Brinkerhoff, Evelyn Elam and Jean Fuller, were chosen for the Maroon and Blue Staff. We also entered a contestant in the county musical and literary contest, Robert Brown, and two, Margaret Vogeding and Helen Brown, in the Latin contest. Our social activities consisted of a very delightful party given by the Sophomore in our honor.

As our first year in G. H. S. closes, we recall happy memories and anticipate the pleasure of the coming years.

ATHLETICS

COACH HATHAWAY

In writing a brief statement concerning Coach Hathaway it is done so with a consciousness that instead of a portraiture the results may be an idealization or eulogy.

Coach Hathaway came to our school with the recommendation that he was one of the outstanding graduates of the class of 1922 of Wittenberg College. During his two years of service he has reorganized and established our football team, he has given us our first winning basketball team, and he has aided us materially in our work in baseball and track.

His unwavering industry, his clear comprehensive vision, as well as his interest in the young men of our school, have accounted for his unusual success. The monumental element of his character is his instinct for service and his sense of duty to the school and to the boys who have been members of his teams.

COACH WALLACE

Last September Leona Wallace was appointed Coach of the Garrett High School girls' basketball team. She had been known as a teacher of History and during the session of 1922-1923 she was not identified with our basketball work. However, last fall notwithstanding her modest bearing, she was not long in impressing upon the girls of our school her fine personality and her fitness for the job as Basketball Coach.

The members of the team found that Miss Wallace possessed the maturity of a seasoned coach and unsuspected knowledge and power well worthy of their admiration and respect. The result was that, "Lee," as she was affectionately called, soon won the confidence of the girls who were ready to follow her enthusiastically in all the games.

As a consequence our girls finished the most successful season in basketball in the history of our institution.

REVIEW OF THE 1923 SEASON

Garrett enjoyed a fairly successful season on the gridiron in 1923, winning five and losing three contests.

At the first of the season Coach Hathaway faced the task of modeling a winning team out of raw material, as only two regular varsity men were left from the powerful eleven of 1922. Dickson alone remained of that whirlwind backfield, and on him was shouldered the bulk of the G. H. S. attack for 1923. On the line Novinger was the only well seasoned veteran. Hard workouts soon brought to light some real stars, however, and by mid season a smart team was formed. Much credit should go to Captain George Novinger, who not only developed into Garrett's greatest ground gainer, but also made a model captain for his team. At the close of the season Dickson, half-back, and Denes, guard, were placed on the all-district eleven.

Garrett was given a stiff battle by her ancient rival, Auburn, in the opening game of the season. The locals won the game, 12 to 6, only after fighting for every point. Beber crashed through center for the first touchdown of the season, and Captain Novinger pulled the game out of the fire in the 3rd quarter by an 85 yard dash for a touchdown. A week later G. H. S. lost to the heavy Edon, Ohio, eleven, here, 6 to 3. Over confidence and fumbles are blamed for the defeat. West's 35 yard drop kick saved Garrett from a shutout. Stinging from the Edon defeat, the G. H. S. eleven journeyed to Bluffton the following week and ran wild through the Bluffton team, 48 to 0. Everybody played brilliant football, Beber, Novinger, Dickson, Schulthess, Sapp, and Denes played especially well, Denes making good 6 out of 7 tries for points. A week later Garrett defeated the strong Central eleven at Fort Wayne, 6 to 0, in a sea of mud and water. Sapp crossed Fort Wayne's goal line in the first few minutes of play for the only scoring of the game. Garrett continued its winning streak by a notable 18 to 0 victory over Columbia City. The feature of the game was Sapp's 85 yard run back of the kickoff. Beber's line smashes also featured. The South Side game was our only decisive defeat, the Fort Wayne eleven, led by the famed Fromuth, downed the locals 20 to 0. Their dazzling aerial attack was the biggest reason for the G. H. S. downfall. Dickson showed up well and made Garrett's attack dangerous at all times. Kendallville nosed out the local team the following week, 13 to 3. The Garrett eleven played scrappy football and held back the attack of the husky visitors well. The unusual difference of weight was the greatest reason for the defeat, and not that the local team was outplayed or outfought. Harold Martz was the star of the game, stopping the heavy K.ville plungers repeatedly. Denes' place kick in the 2nd quarter gave Garrett her 3 points.

The season's windup with Howe was by far the best game of the year, and made a brilliant ending for the successful season. Garrett won the game 17 to 14, after overcoming Howe's 14 to 77 lead. Garrett broke the ice in the 2nd quarter when Dickson clipped through left tackle for a touchdown. Denes added an extra point. Howe came back strong in the 3rd quarter and swept the locals off their feet. Smart passing and running netted their two touchdowns, and 2 points were added. With the score 14 to 7 against them the G. H. S. eleven fought the battle which will never be forgotten in the minds of all who saw it. A series of fast plays put the ball on Howe's 1 yard line, and Hollopeter then smashed through for a touchdown, making the score 14 to 13. Denes again kicked goal, tying the score at 14 and 14, which threw the crowd into a frenzy. The ball zigzagged on the field, both teams trying vainly to score. After all else failed, Garrett pinned her hope in the flashy guard Nick Denes to win the game. He did not disappoint his teammates, for in the last ten seconds his 20 yard place kick cleared the bars, and won the game amid wild cheering fans, and ended the 1923 season brilliantly, as well as that of the player who kicked his team to victory.

REVIEW OF BOY'S BASKETBALL SEASON

The basketball season in the Garrett High School started with a swish and ended with a bang.

The first game of the season was played against Waterloo. This proved to be an easy game and we won by a high score. Spencerville, Pleasant Lake and Huntertown fell before our boys in the same way. The next games should be given very credible mention; they were with Kendallville, Angola, and Auburn. They were the best ones played on the home floor and were won by very small margins. For the first time since Garrett has taken part in basketball, games were scheduled with Decatur. This long range team proved too much for the local boys, and they were defeated on both floors. Once again we journeyed to South Side, our old rivals, and were handed a defeat. Most of the defeats which we suffered were revenged when we hit our winning stride.

At the county tourney Garrett met Auburn and lost to them in the semi-finals. The district tourney was coming on and everything was laid aside while the boys put through some very strenuous practice. Our first game at the tourney was with Flint. They were done away with very easily. Hamilton, and Fremont followed, and were dealt with in the same manner. Angola and Garrett were both out to win and clashed in the final game. Our boys suffered a heart breaking defeat of only a few points. Our boys were not defeated until the final whistle blew because they fought their hardest straight through. In the picking of the all-district team, Garrett placed three men, Burtch-forward, Armstrong-center, and Beeber-back guard. Mountz and DeWitt received honorable mention. With only one first team man lost by graduation we should be well represented at the State Tourney next year.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL

Year of years! This was the most successful year the Girls' Basketball team has ever known. Only one of the thirteen games played was lost. This, undoubtedly, is a very unusual record.

The first strong team the girls encountered was the Kendallvalle team on our home floor. With little exertion we were victorious.

The one defeat of the season was met on our home floor, when two undefeated teams clashed, each determining to be the victor. Garrett picked the unlucky number and lost to Auburn. The largest crowd of the season gathered in our "Good Old Gym" to lead the girls to victory. But—

In succession they defeated the teams of Decatur, Angola, and Kendallville.

The test of their ability came when they met Auburn on Auburn's home floor in the last game of the season. Once more the two rivals were to clash. Garrett having only one mark against her name, while Auburn's slate was clean. The G. H. S. girls determined to mar this slate. This could only be accomplished with each and every girl doing her level best. From start to finish each did her duty and brought home the bacon for Garrett. The Garrett girls had reached their goal, by defeating next to the strongest team of Northern Indiana.

Having accomplished this they strive to in the future years leave G. H. S. with a pure white slate.

The following are the results of the Girls Basketball season of 1923-24:

Garrett 42—Spencerville 2
Garrett 32—Kendallville 13
Garrett 41—Decature 9
Garrett 40—Waterloo 5

BASE BALL

The Garrett High School is again bidding to reach the heights of stardom in Base Ball. During the last two years the lack of a high class pitcher proved disastrous. However this year Coach Hathaway found the two men he wanted to make his team a formidable one. These two men are Thompson and Sapp, crack Freshmen, who formed the battery for the varsity. Although Garrett lost the two opening games Thompson hurled wonderful ball, and in the third game of the season against Waterloo he hurled a no-hit game, winning 14-2. In West and Captain Denes the Maroon and Blue has two veteran outfielders. Swalley, Armstrong, Hickman and St. Amant form a veteran and stellar infield. Cartwright, a freshman, is holding down rightfield and doing a nice job of it.

About six more games remain on the schedule. The locals show promise of finishing on the right side of the loss and win column.

TRACK

Under the direction of Mr. O. B. Young, track work has been started in our schools, after it had been laid aside for a couple of years.

To get the team started for this year, an inter class track meet was held. From this meet the best material was picked, and started training for the County Track meet at Auburn.

The meet at Auburn was mostly held between Auburn and Garrett as the other towns of the county had only one or more track men entered.

Mervin Dickson and George Mountz, two men on the track team, represented our school at an invitation meet at Gary. Dickson placed first in the half-mile and upset the dope bucket, while Mountz placed sixth in the high jump.

On May the 10th, Garrett is going to be well represented in the Sectional Meet at Fort Wayne. Other men who are going to represent our school besides Dickson and Mountz in the track and field events are Swartout, Burtch, Denes, Starner, Ocker, Novinger, Coffing.

LATIN CLUB

President..... Lela VanHouten
Vice-President.....LaVon Wolf
Secretary-Treasurer.....Evelyn Miller

The Garrett High School Latin Club was organized September 1920 under the supervision of Miss Bertha Adams and continued under her direction for two years. In 1922-23, the club came under the control of Miss May Curtis. One of the interesting features of the year were slides of Roman life for the stereopticon machine.

This year 1923-24, the Latin Club again came under the competent direction of Miss Adams and took an active part in the school work. In November a play, "A Roman Wedding," was given before the club by the members of the Vergil class. Later in the year another play, "A Roman School," was presented before the General Assembly. This was followed at a later date by a musical program by the sophomore members of the club.

The last of May, a Latin exhibit was hled. Roman tablets, Latin primers made by the Freshman classes, a Roman bridge, posters, and books illustrating Vergil's Aeneid were on display.

On Tuesday afternoon, May 13, with the Fates and Gods propituous, the members of the Latin Club and their guests wended their way for the crowning event of the seaason, a picnic at the north woods. Covers were laid for sixty. The ground groaned under its burden of chicken, pie, cake, and jelly tarts. The tables were decorated with purple and white, the club's colors. After the feast, there were games, contests, such as handball, duck-on-the-rock, potato races, sack races, and the good old wheelbarrow race.

The club has lived up to its motto, "Semper Paratus," and is looking forward to a more prosperous year in 1924-25.

DEMOSTHIAN CLUB

The Demosthian Club was probably the largest organization in the school year of 1923-24. Owing to the great number of pupils who wished to join the club, it was necessary to divide it into two sections. The total number of members being fifty-eight. This club was under the direction of Miss Nina Davis.

The club was composed of this students who wished to aid in raising the standard of public speaking and dramatics in our High School. In the course of the year, members of the club gave three plays, "Dear Departed," "The Minuet," and "Castles in Spain." It was also represented in the Musical and Literary contests, and a number of speeches, given by varaious members of the club, before the Monday Assemblies. As a whole, the club has proved very satisfactory, and the members who left it, wish the greatest of success to it in the following years.

THE DEBATING CLUB

The Debating club this year was organized under the supervision of Mr. Young, and was composed of about fifteen students.

At the beginning of the year the class studied orations and speeches of famous men and also practiced the delivery of orations. Later we entered both the State Discussion and State Oratorical contests. The question for the discussion contest was "A Peace Plan" and that for the oratorical contest was "The Constitution." A local contest was held in the G. H. S. Assembly, and the winners there participated in the contest at Auburn. The winner of the oratorical also took part in a contest in Fort Wayne. Although not entirely successful in our contests, we enjoyed a very pleasant year's work in the club.

The class started this school year by sending a livestock judging team to the Indiana State Fair. No valuable prizes were won but much valuable experience was gained.

The fourth year of the management of the DeKalb County Farm orchard has been finished and netted the class much experience besides the proceeds of the crop.

The class has had a successful career so far and has gained a popularity for itself and school. The Aggies hope to make good their name and make an even better record in the future than they did in the past.

HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club was originated last year by Mr. R. J. Duke of the State Y. M. C. A. It existed under many handicaps and struggled for existence with a very limited membership for the entire school year. This year the club proved the most successful activity for boys that has been known in the high school.

The Hi-Y sponsored the first real successful "Father and Son" banquet that has ever been put over in our school. There were numerous parties which were all decided successes. A Hallowe'en party was a remarkable event and the New Years watch party will long be remembered.

The future of this club is predicted to be a bright one due to it's abilities and to the fact that the club has responsible young fellows in its offices and has one of the finest orchestras the school has ever known.

HARMONY CLUB

The Harmony Club, of which Miss Evard is advisor, is a society differing from all others in the G. H. S. It is hoped that it will be just as successful and perhaps more so because of its different nature. It is made up entirely of Freshman girls who desire to live good clean lives and to serve the Community and School to the best of their ability. Its chief aim is the threefold development of girls: physical, mental and spirituaal. The officers for the yeaar are: Jessie Dull, President, Myrtle Mitchel, Vice-President, Alverta Steward, Secretary, Evelyn Elam, Treasurer.

This organization has already started some Social Service work in cooperation with Miss Groscup of the Red Cross. At Christmas boxes and magazines were distributed among the different hospitals. The social committee has a full schedule for the year and the programme committee prepares an entertainment every two weeks.

This club is being conducted in the nature of an experiment. Let us hope it will prove a success, because we are looking forward to bigger and better things for our good old G. H. S.

THE PARLIAMENTARY LAW CLUB

For the first time in the history of the Garrett High School a Parliamentary Law Club was organized. The club was under the direction of Mr. Libey and met every week to study the rules of parliamentary proceedure in business meetings. The club was organized with Margaret E. Hersh as chairman and Goldie Nicholson as secretary. Textbooks were secured and used as guides in the regular meetings in order to instruct all members alike. Other subjects for study were the methods of conducting meetings, making and entertaining motions, the duties of officers and committees, and how to vote and what vote is proper.

The study of Parliamentary Law has been a great help to class officers this year and as the work grows the club will be almost invaluable in student activities.

Murry McCullough, Onan Laughman, Vernon Scott, Sterling Ward.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

You might not imagine that very many boys would take an interest in singing, but the first meeting of the Boys' Glee Club proved otherwise. About twenty-five boys turned out for voice-test, and all were admitted to the club. Other activities somewhat interefered with regular practice, but every Wednesday some would be there, as the other people probably knew. At first we took only the simpler melodies, but by Miss Gregory's patient guidance we developed more difficult things. The club appeared in public several times and proved to the people that we had a few good singers. All of us are sure that more boys will take an interest in this activity next year, and we are hoping for a Glee Club that will lead all the other activities in real music.

ORCHESTRA

The High School Orchestra, although it has encountered a great many difficulties, has at last proved successful. The practices have been held almost every Wednesday. The enrollment of the orchestra has increased somewhat making it more difficult to work up the orchestrations. It has appeared on many high school programs including the Senior Class Play. We owe our success to our instructor, Miss Gregory.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Gleen Club under the direction of Miss Gregory is much larger than it has been in previous years. It has been very successful and has furnished numbers on several programs such as the opening of the new High School, and the DeKalb County Teacher's Association. Most of the work has consisted of studying three and four part songs.

By the development of the Junior High School Glee Club, it appears that a still larger glee club will be organized next year. It will probably be necessary to arrange two clubs.

ADVANCED LITERARY CLUB

The Literary Club, which is the first one of its kind in this school, was first organized under the supervision of Miss Brown. It was decided that we should thoroughly study and discuss Greek Mythology, as we thought everyone should know the stories concerning the Greek Gods and Goddess'.

There had been only a few meetings when the club disorganized and was not again organized until the second semester by Miss Addington. We then decided to study modern poetry and authors. We have found that the modern poets have introduced new form and material in their writings. Many of these poems have stood the severe test of critics.

RADIO CLUB

The High School Radio Club was organized at the beginning of the school year, under the supervision of Mr. Young. Due to the many disappointments experienced in purchasing our receiving equipment, we were unable to complete our plans, to the satisfaction of all.

Although we have been unable to do much receiving, we have at least learned the technical points of the subject, which will always be of use to the present graduates, and will be a firm and solid foundation for the club of next year.

Every one has shown unusual enthusiasm in the work and has put forth every effort to make it successful. My hope is that next year, the club will build a transmitting set, which will put the dear old G. H. S. on the map of opportunities.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club, composed of the girls in the Home Nursing and Domestic Science classes, was organized under the supervision of Miss Gappinger and Miss McKinley. As the group was very large, it was necessary to divide it into two sections, one meeting on Thursday and the other on Friday. This club has spent a very interesting and instructive year in the study of the every-day problems of etiquette such as: the correct method of introduction, salutations, sending of invitations and acceptance of them and courtesies in public and private life.

The work has been exceptionally successful and the members anticipate the activities which will be renewed next year.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

One of the most successful social events of the past school year was the Annual Football Banquet, which was held at the Reformed-Presbyterian Church, January 21, 1924. Captain George Novinger presided over the affair as toastmaster. Several members of the team were called upon to give short talks. Mr. Mountz, one of the school's most loyal supporters, made some fine remarks. The rooms were decorated with maroon and blue and on the varsity table a small gridiron was built.

The following program was presented:

First quarter: Capt. Novinger related the value of signals. Chester Starner told about West's dropkick in the Edon game. Vernon Scott told how Cloyd Brown smashed the opposing line.

Second quarter: Nick Denes related how Mervin Dickson ran the visiting team ends ragged. Paul Ocker told how Leslie Steckley would knife his way off tackle. Cloyd Brown explained the value of an aerial game. Lee Hollopeter spoke on our biggest ground gainer "13." Merwood Sapp, our diminutive general, related the value of good tackling. James Williams surprised the audience with a vocal solo. James does not confine his talent only to football, he is a very talented singer. LeRoy Schulthess described the memorable game with Howe which Garrett snatched out of the fire in the last four seconds when Nick Denes booted a field goal. Mervin Dixon spoke on Endurance and Grit.

Third quarter: Presentation of letters by Coach Clayton Hathaway.

Fourth Quarter: Skipper Novinger called on Messrs Carroll, Sidebottom, Willennar and Mountz for short talks. Mr. Sidebottom was called upon to sing "Arabella" but could not hear the request for laughing. However he related some humorous stories for which he is famous.

"GREEN STOCKINGS"

Colonel Vavasour (Smith	Paul Ocker

Cecil Faraday	Thelma Fitch
Lady Trenchard	Goldie Nicholson

Phyllis Faraday	Dorothy Shultz
Aunt Ida	Josephine Engstrom

James Raleigh	Ralph Hickman

The scene of the story is laid in the English home of William Faraday who is the father of three daughters.

An old English custom is that if a younger sister maarries, the eldest daughter has to wear green stockings at the wedding. Phyllis Faraday, the youngest daughter in the home, is very much in love with Robert Tarver, an empty headed young swell. The young lovers are eager to marry but do not want to hurt the feelings of Celia, the eldest daughter. They explain their plight to friends of the family, who vainly try to snare a suitor for Celia's hand.

Celia, on the spur of the moment, announces her engagement to Colonel Smith, a mythical character. All the household rejoices at the good news. Instead of doing all the housework as she formerly did, Celia would write love letters to her imaginary lover. One of these letters was accidentally mailed.

The only person in the home whos discovered Celia's trick was her aunt, Mrs. Chisholm Faraday, of Chicago. Together they planned to announce the death of Colonel Smith eight months later in the London Times.

Everything worked out as Celia and Mrs. Faraday planned until the death notice was placed in the paper and the family discovered it. The household was thrown into mourning, but Celia said she would bear it as bravely as Colonel Smith would have wanted her to if he were alive.

A few days later a Colonel Vavasour appears on the scene and claims that he was a great friend of Colonel Smith. The Colonel gave a vivid picture of the manner in which Colonel Smith died. Celia suspects that something is wrong, so she and Mrs. Chisholm Faraday prepare to sail for America.

When they were about ready to depart, the Colonel announced he was the Colonel Smith and begged Celia to become his bride.

Between acts the High School orchestra played a few selections, Jack Little and his ragamuffins entertained with three pieces and Miss Hazel Sherman sang a vocal number.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

May the second, nineteen hundred and twenty-four marked another famous date. We juniors tried our utmost to make this Junior-Senior Banquet the most successful one ever given by a junior class of the Gararett High School.

Our aim was not only to please the majority, but the minority as well and we truly believe that we succeeded.

With Leslie Steckley as toastmaster everything turned out as it was planned.

The toasts were splendid—laughter at the pasat jokes and prophesies of the future was mingled with a touch of sadness at the thought of the close of our association with the class of '24.

After the dinner the entire group took part in games and dancing. Many showed some real class in their "dancing shoes" as they trod the light fantastic to the music of the Hi-Y jazz-hounds.

A RILL FROM THE PENCIL SHARPENER

Eight-thirty, by the old clock on the wall! eight-thirty, by the clear pealing of the bell! eight-thirty, too, by the frantic, last-minute jabbing of worn pencils into my grinding teeth! Truly, we public servants have a tough time of it! And among all the school officers, what one has as many manifold burdens and responsibilities as the Pencil Sharpener? And such lack of respect as I do receive! In truth, I tremble mightily for my delicate constitution! And yet, with what caution and playful tenderness am I handled by tiny boys and girls in the primary grades, who test my wonders for the first time. Oh, that they might always retain their innocence and childish pleasure!

I pride myself on the fact that there is no other school officer as valuable to all twelve grades as I am. It is by my aid that the beginner can learn to form his first letters; the more advanced pupil is able to draw beautiful and unusual pictures; of course, as he again progresses, he may have to seek my assistance for tasks which do not furnish pleasure; for example, the six weeks' tests and the semester examinations. But then, every good must have its sting or else it loses its goodness.

I am the servant not only of the struggling student, but also of the teachers and even of the principal and superintendent. I never enjoy having them ask my help, however, for there is always the possibility that they will use their beautifully pointed pencils to mark a zero or make out a parents' note for some poor unfortunate. Even better than that, I often am employed by some visiting celebrity to prepare his brilliant oration.

Truly, I have a varied and interesting following! And if only they might learn one little lesson from my wisdom and experience. Although I, myself, can not compose orations or inspiring anthems, yet I can aid some one greater than myself to do those things to which I aspire. And so it could be in human existence. Even though you may feel insignificant and unimportant, yet you are absolutely essential to the complete fulfillment of the plan of life.

The noon hour had come and my abode was deserted so I was given the opportunity to grind out the above, but one o'clock draws near and my peace and solitude are sadly shattered. Here come a dozen unruly freshmen to squabble over the use of me. I may as well resign myself to silence and speedy occupation.

LITTLE JOHNNIE

Recited by Little Johnnie Hathaway. It would be well to note that he is the son of the noted Coach Hathaway, of the famous Maroon and Blue team of the Garrett High School.

I think of all the things at school
A boy has got to do,
That studying Hist'ry as a rule
Is worst of all, don't you?
Of dates there are an awful sight
And though I study day and night
There's only one I've got just right
That's 1923.

Columbus crossed the Delaware
In 1923.
We whipped the British, fair and square
In 1923.

And Barbara Fritchie, so 'tis said,
Cried, "Shoot if you must this old grey head
But I'd rather 'twould be your own instead,"
In 1923.

The Pilgrims came to Plymouth Rock
In 1923,
And the Indians standing on the dock
Asked, "What are you going to do?"
And they said, "We seek your harbor dear
That our children's children's children dear
May boast that their forefathers landed here
In 1923.

Miss Pocahontas saved the life
In 1923
Of John Smith an' became his wife
In 1923.
An' the Smith tribe started then and there
An' now there are John Smith's everywhere,
But they didn't have any Smith's to spare
In 1923.

The Garrett Warriors showed their power
In 1923.
The Romans took their noble plunge
In 1923
So Cloyde Brown plunged holes in Howe
In 1923.
Art Beeber did the same in every game
With ne'er a sign of fear.

So I pledge this rhyme of that fateful time
To the team of '23.

SENIOR PARTIES

The Seniors started their social season with a rousing Hallowe'en party at the home of Goldie Nicholson. The rooms were decorated in keeping with the occasion and the Seniors were masked. The main attractions of the evening were "Miss Arnal Burtch," cider, and black cats.

DECEMBER 19—The second party was at the home of Hazel Sherman. During the course of the evening we discovered how Mr. Young can get up at 8:15, eat, and get to school at 8:30. We can't help but wonder why Miss Evard doesn't practice dropping beans into a bottle and why Mr. Hathaway always answers when they call "prune." After delicious refreshments, the Seniors departed in various ways but mostly in the rain.

"KID PARTY"—Our thoughts (and actions) all seemed to turn back to days of childhood when we met at the home of Jane Ellen Hart. All were dressed in "kid fashion" and curls, and bow ties, and hair ribbons almost completely transformed the august Seniors. The program was also "kiddish," and we departed at a grown-up peoples' hour enjoying lolypops.

FEBRUARY 4—On this date Mary Deurk opened her home to us. We all survived the ice and had an all around good time. We spent our time in dancing and games. Delicious refreshments were served and when we were sure that "our coach" had not handled the dishes like he does a football we departed declaring that every party is better than the last.

FEBRUARY 12—It was February 12 that Jo Tuck invited the Seniors to her home. We all arrived in excellent spirits and spent the evening in various games. Ruth and Jacob was the chief attraction. After we had all the ice cream we could eat we departed joyfully.

FROLIC—The next frolic of Seniors was planned as a sleigh ride party but turned out to be just a good time held in the Junior High School building. We played games, sang songs, and had a rollicking good time. At an early hour we adjourned to the Greeks for refreshments.

JUNIOR PARTIES

OCTOBER 19—Don't say the Juniors aren't full of pep. School had started but a few weeks when we had our first party. All boarded trucks and went out to Mary Kathryn Hixson's in the country. Over forty were there. Snappy games were played on the lawn and a fire was built in the driveway. Did we have a weiner roast? Ask a Junior.

NOVEMBER 3—Thirty-five merry Juniors attended a class party at Ethel Murray's. Games and songs were the order of the evening. Our talented singers favored us with many selections. Delicious refreshments were served and everyone trooped merrily home.

JANUARY 6—The Juniors held their third party at Josephine Trimbles. The girls made use of Leap Year all right. Thirty-three were present. The evening was spent in playing games and enjoying stunts. Of course the Mistletoe was made use of. "Some eats" was the report.

FEBRUARY 13.—The Juniors held a Valentine Party at Maybelle Little's. It proved to be "something different." Mah Jongg, flinch, muggins, pit and rum were played. After refreshments were served each one received a pretty valentine.

MARCH 17—The jolly Juniors had a St. Patrick's party at the home of Opal Carbaugh. The evening was spent in playing games and telling "Pat and Mike" stories.

MARCH 24—The Juniors were royally entertained by their president, Leslie Steckley, at his sister's home. If any of the Juniors didn't know how to play cards before they went, they were perfect sharks before they left. And the eats were the best, of course.

ALUMNI

President .....Velma Fulk
Vice-President .....Carl Weaver
Secretary-Treasurer .....Orville DePew

The alumni association of the Garrett High School should be a powerful organization, capable of giving the old school service, assitance, and encouragement.

Since the reorganization of the association by the class of 1921 two banquets have been held and now that it is an established organization, an effort should be made by every alumnus to be present at these affairs.

Nothing serves better to recall fond memories of our high school days, with their inspiration and friendliness, than to gather annually to renew our relations that are more than mere friendships and acquaintances. Nothing instills in us a sense of loyalty to the old school more than to meet with the graduates of the G. H. S.

With this thought in mind let us many of us as possible gather on May 21 to celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the Alumni association.

Compliments of the

Fort Wayne & Northwestern Railroad

You see a beautiful girl walking down the street. She is of course, feminine. If she is singular, you become nominative. You walk across to her, changing the verbal and then becoming dative. If she is not objective, you become plural. You walk home together. Her mother is accusative, and you become imperative. Her brother is an indefinite article. You walk in and sit down. You talk of the future and she changes to the object. Her father becomes present and you become the past participle.

Don't be what you ain't,
  Just be what you is;
If you is not what you am,
  Then you are not what you is,
If you're just a little tadpole,
  Don't try to be a frog;
If you're just the tale,
  Don't try to wag the dog.
You can always pass the plate
  If you can't exhort and preach,
If you're just a little pebble,
  Don't try to be the beach.
Don't be what you ain't;
  Jest be what you is.

"When did I say it was?" asked his father.

"Yesterday," answered Willie.

A Mixed-up Relationship

A citizen committed suicide. His reasons for so doing were found written on a scrap of paper in his left boot leg and read as follows:

"I married a widow with a grown-up daughter. My father visited us frequently, fell in love with my step-daughter and married her, and so became my son-in-law and my step-daughter became my mother. Later a son was born to me, who, under the circumstances, became my father's brother-in-law and my own uncle, on account of being a brother to my step-daughter. My step-daughter also gave birth to a son, who was certainly my brother, and at the same time my grandson. My own wife through this was my grandmother. Being my own wife's husband I became my own grandfather which was more than I could bear."

SEND MOTHER FLOWERS

They will bring you right to her—on this day that means to her even more than her own birthday.

Every birthday you ever had, meant another accomplishment to your mother—from your first step, to your entrance into business if a man or management of your own home if a woman. Each succeeding birthday meant another link in the chain of tenderest memories.

So this year, why not set aside your own birthday as a time of renewed attention to your mother?

You won't need to send a lengthy message, the flowers will tell more than words ever can. She'll know and understand.

If mother lives elsewhere, call on our "Flowers by Wire" Service, and her favorite flowers can be delivered to her anywhere—even in foreign lands.

Farewell

You've been a warm true friend to me
These many, many years,
But now the last, sad, hour has come,
I part with you with tears.

Well I remember, long ago,
One snowy winter's night,
The time I proudly brought you home
Pressed to my bosom tight.

Alas! that all your grace should flee,
And all the perfect charms,
Yet happy moments have I known
In those once shapely arms.

You used to wear a modest look,
But now are rather quiet,
You have a dissipated air
Of roaming late at night.

Now arm in arm to walk with you,
I feel ashamed and shy;
It's really best that we should part,
Good-by, old coat, good-by.
